In-class map test – 14 October (25%): Identifying selected regions, cities and topographical features in Europe.

Essay (40% / due 18 November): Select a specific country, region or nation in Europe or any related geographical issue. Examples would include themes like the "little peoples of Europe" (e.g. Basques; Lusatian Sorbs; Roma; Moravians; Friesians; Rusyns; Romansh) or regions like the polderlands, the Fenlands, the Ruhr, Normandy and the Carpathians or issues like international rivers, border disputes & secessionist movements. Your essay should be approximately 10-12 pages long, not including cartographic or other illustrative material. Use standard scholarly referencing. You must refer to at least 2 or more books or scholarly articles that you consulted (not Internet sources, i.e. Wikipedia). Only hard copies are accepted (please keep a copy until you have received your final course grade). A 5% per day late penalty will apply for any essay submitted after the due date. Do not email your essay.

In-class final test (35% / 25 November): An in-class test consisting of two parts, a multiple choice section and an essay. The first portion will cover lecture materials. The essay question will invite you to "Define what you mean by Europe." You should reference the required reading (i.e. Norman Davies, Europe: A History, "The Legend of Europa" and "Introduction"), other materials provided by the instructor during the course and your own essay research.

Academic misconduct, including plagiarism, cheating, and other violations of academic ethics, is a serious academic infraction for which penalties may range from a recorded caution to expulsion from the College. The RMCC Academic Regulations Section 23 defines plagiarism as: "Using the work of others and attempting to present it as original thought, prose or work. This includes failure to appropriately acknowledge a source, misrepresentation of cited work, and misuse of quotation marks or attribution." It also includes "the failure to acknowledge that work has been submitted for credit elsewhere." All students should consult the published statements on Academic Misconduct contained in the Royal Military College of Canada Undergraduate Calendar, Section 23.
